AM

Dear Hanyu,

Thank you for your email. I will provide your submissions to the Commissioner for his review.

Please be aware that I am on leave from Monday 15 December 2025 and will return in early January. Your matter will continue to progress upon my return.

Kind regards

Subject: Good Cause Submission – EOC [REDACTED] 2025

Dear Commissioner / [REDACTED]

Thank you for granting an extension to provide my good cause submission.

I apologise that part of my complaint (relating to incidents from June 2022 to October 2024) was lodged outside the 12-month period. The delay was not intentional and arose for three main reasons.

1. Reasonable attempts to resolve the matter through other agencies

From 2022 to 2024 I tried to resolve my concerns directly with the Public Transport Authority and later through the WA Ombudsman. I believed those bodies were responsible and hoped to avoid formal legal processes. Only after those avenues failed did I understand that the Equal Opportunity Commission was the appropriate forum.

2. Practical and psychological barriers

I am the primary carer of two young autistic children and rely on the school bus service for their education. Managing their daily care and safety left limited capacity to prepare a formal complaint, and I was worried that making a formal complaint too early might affect our access to the service.

3. Confusion about jurisdiction and process

As a lay person and non-native English speaker, I found the state and federal disability systems complex and overlapping. It took time to understand which body had authority to assist. Once I realised the Commission could consider impairment discrimination in services, I lodged promptly.

For these reasons I respectfully request that the Commissioner accept the out-of-time elements of my complaint.

Kind regards,

Hanyu Liu

Dear Hanyu,

Thank you for your email. I grant your request for an extension to provide good cause submissions 11 December 2025.

Hanyu, it may be helpful to reiterate here that when the Commissioner considers good cause he will not look at the merit of your complaint. Detailed submissions and documents are not often required at the good cause stage (but do hang onto them as they may become relevant). Good cause is simply the reason why you did not lodge earlier – the reason for the delay. It can be as simple as “I was unwell” or “I was waiting for a legal appointment”, for example.

I hope this information assists you in the preparation of your reply. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Kind regards

Subject: EOC [REDACTED] 2025 – Request for Short Extension for “Good Cause” Submission

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your letter regarding the “good cause” submission.

I am currently reviewing a large volume of documents and correspondence dating back to 2022 so that I can provide the Commissioner with a complete and accurate account of the relevant incidents. Preparing a clear and well-supported submission will require a little more time.

May I request a short extension of two weeks (until Thursday 11 December) to finalise my “good cause” response?

I want to ensure that the information I provide is accurate and helpful to the Commission’s assessment.

Thank you for your understanding.

Kind regards,

Hanyu Liu

Dear Hanyu

Your Complaint to the Equal Opportunity Commission EOC [REDACTED] 2025 – request to show ‘good cause’

The Commissioner has reviewed your complaint and I attach his letter to you. The Commissioner’s letter says that part of your complaint is out of time. Incidents that occur more than 12 months prior to a complaint being made are out of time. The Commissioner would like you to provide him with information or ‘good cause’ as to why he should accept parts of your complaint out of time.

So that your complaint can progress, please could you respond to the letter by Thursday 27 November. Responding via return email is fine.

Kind regards
